ABOUT WPS FORUM 2025

Since its inception in 2022, the International Forum on Women, Peace, and Security (WPS Forum) has established Kosovo as a global center for dialogue on peace, security, conflict resolution, and the profound impact of armed conflict on women and children.

Under the leadership of Dr. Vjosa Osmani Sadriu, President of the Republic of Kosovo, the Forum brings together world leaders, policymakers, representatives from international organizations, civil society, academia, and the media.

Each edition explores a central theme, addressing contemporary global security and peace challenges:

The 1st edition: “Building Alliances for Sustainable Peace” – Focused on partnerships for long-term security and featured opening remarks from U.S. Secretary of State Antony Blinken and other global leaders.

The 2nd edition: “Rethinking Security” – Addressed conflict-related sexual violence and climate change, with keynote addresses from Hillary Clinton, President Osmani, and other global leaders.

The 3rd edition, themed “The Security Code for Our Generation”, will address the often-overlooked challenges faced by women and children in conflict zones. Women and children disproportionately bear the burdens of war, amid widespread destruction. Ongoing global conflicts underscore the devastating consequences for families, who face elevated risks of displacement, violence, and disrupted education.
